Regarding support for the Darden School of Business Registrar application:

As one of the original developers of Registrar, I have been called on from time to time to assist the Darden School with maintenance of the application. Such maintenance has included:

Automated testing
Bug fixes
Minor enhancements
Deployment architecture
Updates to Java, JBoss EAP, SQL Server

If Darden has discontinued support for a business school that uses Registrar, I will consider providing support for Registrar to that school on the following terms. Consulting will be carried out by remote screen sharing with personnel of the school who are now taking responsibility for maintenance. Cost is by an hourly rate, to be negotiated. I will not have access to the code base and will do no independent work.

Meeting times for consulting are to be arranged in advanced, ad hoc, by email. There are to be no obligations by either party as to the number of hours guaranteed to be provided. Either party may discontinue the relationship at any time, with short notice.

Mr. Nick Skriloff can vouch for me, the two of us having worked together over the span of the lifetime of Registrar.
